Title page template and guidelines

Guidelines for authors/editors of books and electronic publications. Please contact the University Library or Lapland University Press (lup@ulapland.fi) if want to check the accuracy of the information where your publication is concerned.

The half-title page, the very first page of a printed book, repeats the main title of the work.

This page is not necessary in electronic publications, but if you would like to have a cover, please use it. If you do, leave page 2 blank; the title is normally on page 3 and the copyright notice on the reverse side, page 4.

The page number is not marked on this page.

If the work is to be published in electronic format only, the first two pages in the template for a printed work can be omitted.

If your printed book has pages 1–2, please include them in the electronic publication so that the page numbers stay the same in both formats.
This page is usually left blank. In electronic publications, this page can be omitted. The page number is not marked on this page.

The page number is not marked on this page.

Publication series, serial number

Name of author

Main title

Subtitle

In multi-volume publications, please indicate the title and number of the volume here.

Publisher
Name or logo of publisher (the unit responsible for the publication), with place and year of publication below it.
Here, the publisher is usually the University of Lapland, or University of Lapland, faculty/unit.

Place of publication, year of publication

The main title must be clearly distinguishable from the subtitle.

Only if the book is part of a series.

The page number not marked on this page.

If the publication is a project report, please specify the following and distinguish them clearly:
- the name of the project
- who the project was commissioned or funded by
- the organisation(s) responsible for carrying out the project
Please follow the guidelines of the funding body (-ies) when placing the logos.

Please indicate here if the work is the second or later edition of the publication, and specify the scope of the changes in the edition (corrected, revised, extended edition).
For example: 2nd, corrected edition. (This line is omitted in the first edition.)

Holders of the copyrights to the work can be indicated here.

Particularly in the case of electronic publications, it is advisable to indicate here the rights given to the user of the work using Creative Commons licensing. Each copyright holder (including those holding rights to images) must approve the license used. If no license is specified, the work can be used on the same terms as the printed publication.

Cite the graphic designer / layout designer / cover designer etc. here, as well as any other contributors, such as translators, illustrators, photo editors. You can also provide the details of the cover image(s) here.

In printed books.

If the printed book is published in different forms, for example as a softcover and hardcover edition, each format receives its own ISBN.

Only mark the ISSN, series and serial number here if the publication is part of a series. The ISBN is mandatory.

If the work is published in both print and electronic versions, the details of each are marked here.
